Title	Nature and importance of follicular lymphoma precursors
First author	Mamessier Emilie

According to the International Committee of Medical Journal Editors (ICMJE)

(http://www.icmje.org/ethical_1author.html):

“Authorship credit should be based on: 1) substantial contributions to conception and design, acquisition of data, or analysis and interpretation of data; 2) drafting the article or revising it critically for important intellectual content; and 3) final approval of the version to be published. Authors should meet conditions 1, 2 and 3. Acquisition of funding, collection of data, or general supervision of the research group alone does not constitute authorship”.

The responsible author(s) of this manuscript confirm(s) that all persons designated as authors qualify for authorship, and that each author has participated sufficiently in the work to take public responsibility for appropriate portions of the content.

Specific contributions of each author are listed on page 2 of this document.

Author contributions (maximum 1 page):

Please describe the contributions of each author, indicating who was responsible for each part of the study and the preparation of the manuscript (collection of data, experiments, data analysis, generation of figures, collection of images, interpretation of data, preparation of the text, etc.)

All authors (ME, FBGF, CB, BR, XL, JES and NB) wrote a significant part of the manuscript: FBGF and BR specifically wrote the clinical part. CB, XL and JES wrote the paragraphs involving pathological descriptions. ME and NB were mostly involved in the novel aspects of follicular lymphoma precursors, the articulation and the proofread of the manuscript
