

Haematologica
HAEMATOL/2019/223073
Version 3

Guidelines from the 2017 European Conference on Infections in Leukaemia for management of HHV-6 infection in patients with hematological malignancies and after hematopoietic stem cell transplantation.

Katherine N. Ward, Joshua A. Hill, Petr Hubacek, Rafael de la Camara, Roberto Crocchiolo, Hermann Einsele, David Navarro, Christine Robin, Catherine Cordonnier, and Per Ljungman

Disclosures: Point 1. Role of the funding source: The ECIL meeting (Sept 21-23, 2017) was supported by unrestricted grants from Astellas, Basilea, Chimerix, Clinigen, Gilead, MSD, Pfizer and Shire. None of these pharmaceutical companies had any role in the selection of experts and the scope and purpose of the guidelines, or the collection, analysis, and interpretation of the data and editing the guidelines. Point 2. KNW has no potential conflicts of interest. JAH receives research support from Shire, and Karius Inc., research support and consulting fees from Nohla Therapeutics, and consulting fees from Amplyx. PH has been an advisor for Merck and Clinigen. RdIC has been an advisor for Astellas, Biotest, Clinigen, Janssen, Merck and Novartis and has received grants from Astellas, Gilead, Janssen, Merck, Novartis and Pfizer. RC has been employee of MolMed S.p.A. HE has participated in speakers' bureau for Merck GmbH. DN has been an advisor for and received grants from Abbott Diagnostics, Roche Diagnostics, Pfizer, and Merck. CR has received clinical research grants for her institution from Astellas, Merck and Shire. CC has been an advisor for Astellas, Chimerix, Merck, and Shire and has received clinical research grants for her institution from Astellas, Merck and Shire. PL has been an advisor for Merck, AiCuris, Astellas, and Oxford Immunotech and has received grants from Merck, Takeda and Astellas. Point 3 not applicable

Contributions: Catherine Cordonnier and Per Ljungman recruited the experts. All authors were involved in the literature search, development of recommendations and revised and approved the final manuscript.