

Variations in non-pharmacological anti-infective measures in childhood leukemia – results of an international survey

Thomas Lehrnbecher,¹ Richard Aplenc,² Fernanda Rivas Pereira,³ Alvaro Lassaletta,⁴ Désirée Caselli,⁵ Jerzy Kowalczyk,⁶ Julia Chisholm,⁷ and Lillian Sung⁸ on behalf of the SIOP Supportive Care Working Group*

¹University of Frankfurt, Germany; ²Children's Hospital of Philadelphia, PA, USA; ³Children's Hospital, Gutierrez, Argentine Treatment Group of Acute Leukemias GATLA, Argentina, Buenos Aires; ⁴Hospital Niño Jesús, Madrid, Spain; ⁵Azienda Ospedaliero-Universitaria Meyer, Florence, Italy; ⁶Medical University, Lublin, Poland; ⁷Royal Marsden Hospital, Sutton, UK; ⁸The Hospital for Sick Children, Toronto, Canada

©2014 Ferrata Storti Foundation. This is an open-access paper. doi:10.3324/haematol.2014.112615

An Incorrect version of The SIOP Supportive Care Working Group appeared on October 2012 Issue, page 1552.
The correct version is published below.

The SIOP Supportive Care Working Group involved in this survey consisted of Roland A. Ammann (Switzerland), Richard Aplenc (USA), Andishe Attarbaschi (Austria), Diana Averbuch (Israel), André Baruchel (France), Désirée Caselli (Italy), Julia Chisholm (United Kingdom), Peter Downie (Australia), Andreas H. Groll (Germany), Henrik Hasle (Denmark), Jesper Heldrup (Sweden), Jerzy Kowalczyk (Poland), Alvaro Lassaletta (Spain), Thomas Lehrnbecher (Germany), Marleen Renard (Belgium), Fernanda Rivas Pereira (Argentina), Jane Skeen (New Zealand), Jan Stary (Czech Republic), Lillian Sung (Canada), Wim Tissing (Netherlands), Athanasios Tragiannidis (Greece), Manickavalli Vaithilingum (South Africa), and Theo Zaoutis (USA)*