

In a 'real-world' setting the long-term outcome of patients treated with TKI is excellent and a third of the patients met the conditions for an attempt to stop TKI therapy

